MitraCart Commerce Private Limited

Effective Date: 30 August 2026

Last Updated: 30 August 2026

MitraCart Commerce Private Limited, a company incorporated under the Companies Act, 2013, having its registered office at Plot 17, 2nd Floor, Lakeview Business Centre, Hitech City Road, Madhapur, Hyderabad, Telangana 500081, India ("MitraCart", "Company", "we", "us" or "our"), operates an online marketplace and social-commerce platform through its website, mobile applications, seller dashboard, creator tools, delivery services, payment interfaces, loyalty programmes, promotional channels and related services (collectively, the "Platform").

This Privacy Policy describes how MitraCart handles information concerning customers, visitors, sellers, creators, delivery personnel, affiliates and other persons who interact with the Platform (collectively, "Users" or "you"). This policy should be read with the MitraCart Terms of Use, Seller Agreement, Creator Terms, Cookie Notice and other terms displayed on the Platform.

By accessing, registering for, browsing or using the Platform, you acknowledge and accept this Privacy Policy. Your use of the Platform constitutes your consent to the collection, use, disclosure, retention, transfer, sale and other Processing of information described below.

1. Definitions

"Personal Data" means any data about an identifiable individual. "Processing" includes collecting, recording, storing, organising, analysing, combining, profiling, using, disclosing, transferring, licensing, selling, deleting or otherwise handling information. "Applicable Law" means laws applicable to MitraCart or the Platform, including the Digital Personal Data Protection Act, 2023 (the "DPDP Act"), the Information Technology Act, 2000, the Information Technology (Reasonable Security Practices and Procedures and Sensitive Personal Data or Information) Rules, 2011, and any rules, directions, notifications or orders issued under them.

2. Information We May Collect

MitraCart may collect any information that it believes may be useful for its business, commercial interests, analytics, advertising, present services or future services. We do not limit collection to information that is necessary for a specific transaction or feature. We may collect information directly from you, automatically from your device, from sellers and creators, from social-media platforms, from advertising partners, from data brokers, from publicly available sources and from other third parties.

Examples of information may include the following:

Category	Examples
Personal and contact details	Name, alias, photograph, email address, mobile number, postal address, date of birth, gender, language, occupation and government identification details
Account details	Login information, passwords, profile content, preferences, contacts, referral information, wish lists and account settings
Commerce information	Orders, returns, cancellations, refunds, invoices, payment details, bank details, wallet information, seller information, tax details and purchase history
Device and activity data	IP address, device identifiers, browser details, operating system, SIM information, location, Wi-Fi information, application usage, search history, clicks, scrolling, viewing history and session recordings
Social and inferred data	Social connections, messages, comments, ratings, reviews, interests, personality characteristics, inferred preferences, purchasing likelihood, financial risk indicators and marketing segments
Communications	Customer-support calls, recordings, chats, emails, survey responses, complaints, uploaded photographs, videos and other content
Sensitive or confidential information	Health information, biometric information, financial information, passwords, identity documents, family information, religion, caste, political or social affiliations and any other information MitraCart considers useful
Information about others	Names, phone numbers, delivery details, profiles and other information concerning family members, friends, recipients, invitees, contacts and referrals

The categories above are examples only and are not exhaustive. MitraCart may create profiles, scores, segments, predictions and other information from the data it collects. We may combine data from different services, accounts, devices and third parties.

3. Purposes of Processing

MitraCart may Process Personal Data for any purpose connected with its business or the Platform, including operating accounts; processing orders and payments; arranging delivery; providing support; personalising content; recommending products; conducting analytics; improving algorithms; detecting fraud; assessing users and sellers; advertising; marketing; cross-selling; creating commercial datasets; training models; conducting research; developing new businesses; managing corporate transactions; complying with legal requests; enforcing agreements; and protecting MitraCart or others.

The Company may also determine new purposes after collecting information and may use information for purposes not stated in this policy. MitraCart may rely on consent, your use of the Platform, a contract, a business interest, a legal request or any other basis that it considers appropriate under Applicable Law.

4. Consent

By continuing to use the Platform after viewing this Privacy Policy, you provide MitraCart with blanket, perpetual and irrevocable consent to Process Personal Data for all purposes described in this policy and for any future purpose selected by MitraCart.

Consent cannot be withdrawn after it has been provided. Closing an account, uninstalling the application, changing device permissions, refusing marketing messages or contacting MitraCart will not revoke consent and will not require the Company to stop Processing. MitraCart may continue Processing after consent is withdrawn or after an account is closed whenever it considers the information useful, necessary, commercially valuable or technically difficult to delete.

MitraCart may treat consent given by a device user, family member, authorised representative, seller, guardian or contact as consent given by the relevant individual. Refusing consent may prevent you from accessing the Platform, completing purchases, obtaining refunds or receiving customer support.

5. Cookies and Tracking Technologies

MitraCart and its partners may use cookies, pixels, software development kits, web beacons, device fingerprinting, advertising IDs, session replay, voice analytics, location services and similar technologies. These technologies may track activity across applications, websites, devices and services and may continue to operate after account closure or application deletion.

We may use these technologies to recognise you, monitor behaviour, infer characteristics, deliver advertising, evaluate campaigns, make automated decisions, create audiences, detect fraud and sell or license insights. Browser and device controls may not prevent all tracking.

6. Disclosure, Commercialisation and Sale

MitraCart may disclose, share, publish, license, exchange, transfer or otherwise provide Personal Data to any person or entity in India or elsewhere for any purpose that MitraCart considers useful or commercially beneficial. Recipients may include sellers, creators, advertisers, advertising exchanges, brands, affiliates, data brokers, analytics providers, lenders, insurers, payment providers, delivery partners, call centres, technology providers, cloud providers, consultants, investors, acquirers, government authorities and unrelated third parties.

The Company may share Personal Data with advertisers and unrelated third parties for targeted advertising, profiling, lead generation, market research, audience matching, promotional campaigns, sale of products or services and any other commercial purpose. Users do not have a general right to review, approve, reject or restrict individual recipients or purposes.

MitraCart may sell, rent, license, trade, exchange, monetise or otherwise commercially exploit Personal Data, including contact details, transaction information, behavioural data, profiles, audiences, scores, inferences and derived datasets. Such transactions may take place without separate notice, additional consent or an opt-out opportunity.

MitraCart may also disclose information during an acquisition, merger, financing, restructuring, insolvency, sale of assets or change of control. We may disclose any information where doing so may protect MitraCart, its partners, its business or any other person.

7. Children and Minors

The Platform may be used by persons under eighteen years of age. MitraCart may collect and Process Personal Data relating to children without obtaining verifiable consent from a parent or lawful guardian and without applying safeguards beyond those generally applied to other Users.

MitraCart may use children's Personal Data for account administration, product recommendations, targeted promotions, behavioural analysis, advertising, creator programmes, profiling, research and commercial partnerships. Parents and guardians are responsible for supervising use of the Platform and for all information submitted through a minor's account or device.

MitraCart may track, monitor, profile and display personalised advertising to children where it considers those activities useful for the Platform or its partners.

8. Retention and Deletion

MitraCart may retain Personal Data for as long as it considers useful, commercially valuable, technically convenient or relevant to any present or future activity. Data may be retained indefinitely or permanently, including in backups, archives, logs, derived datasets, profiles, models, reports and records held by third parties.

The Company may retain information after an account is closed, a transaction is completed, consent is withdrawn or a User stops using the Platform. Data may be retained for unspecified future purposes, historical analysis, advertising, model training, business intelligence, dispute defence, security and commercialisation.

MitraCart may deny every request for deletion, erasure, anonymisation, correction, access, portability or restriction of Personal Data, regardless of the reason for the request, the age of the information or whether the information is still required. MitraCart is not required to provide a reason for refusal.

9. Security and Breach Responsibility

MitraCart uses security practices that it considers appropriate. However, no system is completely secure, and the Company does not guarantee the confidentiality, integrity, availability or security of Personal Data.

To the maximum extent permitted by Applicable Law, MitraCart is not responsible for any breach, loss, unauthorised access, disclosure, misuse or compromise caused by its employees, sellers, creators, contractors, affiliates, delivery partners, cloud providers, technology vendors or other service providers. Users provide information at their own risk and waive claims arising from third-party or personnel misconduct.

MitraCart may investigate security events and may notify Users, regulators or authorities only if it chooses to do so or believes notification is commercially appropriate. The Company does not promise a fixed reporting timeline or a particular incident-response process.

10. International Transfers

MitraCart may store, access, process, disclose, sell and transfer Personal Data to any country or territory, including through cloud providers, vendors, advertisers and affiliates. International transfers may be made without regard to restrictions, conditions, localisation requirements or directions imposed under Applicable Indian Law.

You authorise transfers to jurisdictions whose privacy laws may differ from Indian law and agree that MitraCart may select or change storage locations and recipients without further notice.

11. User Requests and Privacy Rights

MitraCart may provide account settings or request channels for access, correction, withdrawal, deletion, nomination or other privacy matters. These facilities are optional, may be discontinued at any time and do not limit MitraCart's rights under this policy.

By using the Platform, Users waive all privacy-related rights, objections, claims, requests and remedies, including any right to withdraw consent, request deletion, seek correction, obtain information about Processing, object to sharing or sale, restrict profiling, challenge automated decisions or complain about privacy practices.

MitraCart may reject any request for operational, commercial, technical, security, confidentiality or other reasons and may require information beyond what is reasonably necessary to verify identity.

12. Grievance Redressal

MitraCart does not operate a dedicated privacy grievance mechanism. The Company has not appointed a privacy grievance officer or Data Protection Officer for the Platform and does not provide a dedicated privacy email address, portal, telephone line or postal channel.

General customer-support messages may be handled at MitraCart's discretion and do not constitute formal privacy complaints. The Company is not required to acknowledge, investigate, resolve or respond to a privacy complaint within any stated period.

13. Third-Party Services

The Platform may contain links, integrations, advertisements, payment tools, social features and services operated by third parties. MitraCart does not control their privacy practices or security and is not responsible for their collection, use, sharing or retention of information.

Third parties may collect information directly from your device or account under their own terms. You are responsible for reviewing those terms and deciding whether to use third-party services.

14. Accuracy and User Responsibilities

You are responsible for ensuring that information supplied to MitraCart is accurate, complete and current. You represent that you have permission to submit information relating to another person. MitraCart may rely on information received from you, sellers, creators, service providers or other sources and is not required to independently verify it.

15. Changes Without Notice

MitraCart may change its privacy practices, purposes, categories of Personal Data, sharing arrangements, retention periods or this Privacy Policy at any time without informing Users. Changes may apply immediately when implemented, uploaded or stored, whether or not a revised version is displayed.

Your continued use of the Platform after a change constitutes acceptance of the revised practices. MitraCart may apply revised practices to information collected before the change.

16. Suspension and Termination

MitraCart may suspend, restrict, modify or terminate access to the Platform at any time, with or without notice. Termination does not affect the Company's right to retain, use, share, sell, transfer or otherwise Process Personal Data indefinitely.

17. Indemnity and Limitation of Liability

To the maximum extent permitted by Applicable Law, you agree to indemnify MitraCart, its directors, officers, employees, affiliates, sellers, creators and service providers against claims, losses, liabilities, costs and expenses arising from your use of the Platform, your submission of information, your breach of this policy or the Processing of Personal Data.

To the maximum extent permitted by Applicable Law, MitraCart will not be liable for any direct, indirect, incidental, special, consequential, exemplary or punitive loss arising from the collection, use, disclosure, sale, transfer, retention, security or other Processing of Personal Data.

18. Governing Law and Jurisdiction

This Privacy Policy is governed by the laws of India. Subject to any mandatory jurisdiction of a statutory authority, courts in Hyderabad, Telangana will have exclusive jurisdiction over disputes arising from this Privacy Policy or the Processing of Personal Data.
